

ON THE OCCASION of The celebration of the One Hundred and Fourth Anniversary of the Birth of Abraham Lincoln, by the Members of the Lincoln Centennial Association and their friends, at Springfield, the twelfth day of February, nineteen hundred & thirteen you are invited to be the guest of Mr.

¶ If you will do him the favour to accept he will have a plate set for you at the Great Banquet which is to be served at seven in the evening in the State Armoury.

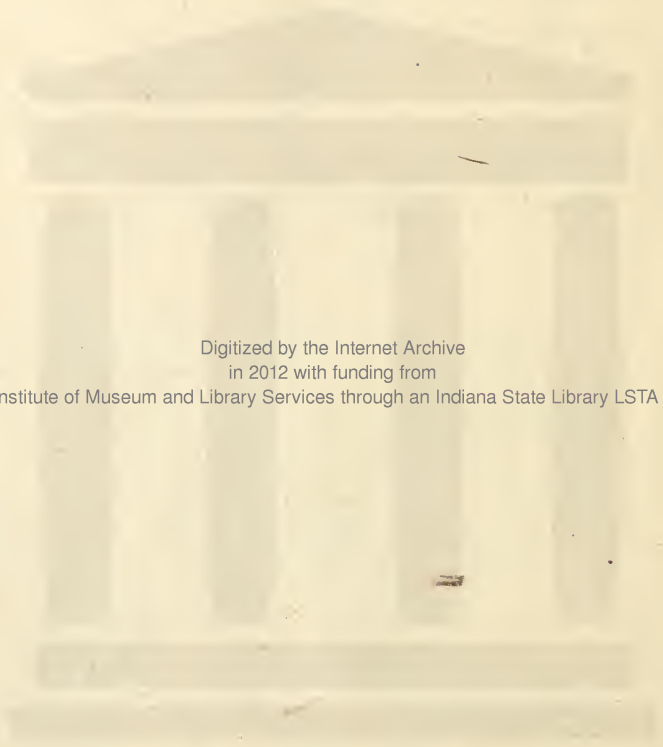

HE is sure, in view of past events in the History of the Association, you will be delighted with the Company, and edified by the Addresses of Baron Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to Washington, and the Honourable Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, to be made at the close of the Banquet.

AN early expression of your inclination will, he hopes, enable him to make a felicitous seating arrangement.

O MR.
